how to spot and avoid scam/sketchy social media accounts

instagram

- following vs follower amount. (huge discrepancies are a tell)
- asking for personal info. (things as your location/money related information)
- frequency of posts (include pictures posted in very short period of time or singular photos posted only days before they reach out to you)

snapchat

- account names (easy tell is names that are not creative and have random numbers at the end)
- spam messaging (account that immediately spam message after becoming friends)
- account creation dates (Scam account get reported often and have to be remade so recently made accounts with low snap scores are often bots)

PSA

Never share geological information with anyone you don't know personally.

Never share banking information relating to financials. Always trust your gut if it seems sketchy it probably is. considering privacy is important when interacting on social media sites as this information can be tracked and used to sabotage your online presence.
